

Chapter 2 Exercise 6

Digits

Make a proper Launch screen with the program title and copyright info.

This app takes in a two digit number and determines and displays each digit. What two operations have you learned to find the first digit then what is left over?

Determine the number of buttons, labels and text fields needed. Determine how many constants and variables are needed, and what type they are. For the variables determine whether they are input, output or internal variables.
