

Chapter 2 Exercise 8

Time

Make a proper Launch screen with the program title and copyright info.

This app takes in the amount of time in seconds and computes either the time in hours and minutes or the time in seconds from the given number of minutes depending on which segment is pressed.

Determine the number and types of controls needed. Determine how many constants and variables are needed, and what type they are. For the variables determine whether they are input, output or internal variables.
